CURTIS FLAYS DEMOCRATIC TARIFF RULE

Republican Candidate Starts New England Tour With Tariff Discussion.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 5—Senator Charles Curtis, the Republican party's Middle Western vice-presidential nominee, bid for Eastern favor here today as a high tariff protectionists. He was invading for the first time New England which he called "pre-eminently the industrial section of the country."

Speaking at an outdoor political rally, Curtis said voters must decide i nthe November election between the Republican policy of tariff for protection and the democratic principle of tariff for revenue only.

"Interpret as you may the ambiguous declaration on the tariff adopted by the democratic national convention at Houston," he said, "You all know that the traditional democratic policy has been tariff for revenue only, and basically that is all it ever will be.

"The last expression of that policy in a tariff law as the Underwood tariff act of 1913. Though it was supposed to recognize the principle of protection, actually it did not give protection.

Curtis said he interpreted Gov. Alfred E. Smith's acceptance speech as an endorsement of the Underwood tariff and characterized the tariff plank in the Democratic platform as a "glittering generally which neither disown prior democratic tariff policy nor definitely promises any new policy."

"The policy of tariff protection has been so interwoven with our economic growth that it is an inseparable part of our present national prosperity and success," he said. "Its abandonment cannot be considered for a moment.

"Any general revision downward such as was made the last time the democrats were in charge of the government, will be to the immediate serious detriment of the country as a whole. Any permanent revision downward would mean the economic ruin of the country."

FRENCH PLANE CONTINUES ITS WAY TO N. Y.

Leave Morocco For Africa and Then Plan Hop To Rio de Janeiro.

CASABLANC, Morocco, Sept. 5—The trim French monoplane Canary Bird continued on its long distance flight today, starting from the sandy waste tract at 6 a. m. and proceeding southwards towards Daker, Africa.

The skies were slightly misty as Adjutant Jean Assolant and Segreant Rene Lefevre, and their stowaway flying companion, Armande Lotti, climbed into the monoplane and left Casablanca.

They had announced previously they would refuel at Dakar and make a flight to Rio De Janerio from where they would attempt a one-stop flight to New York.

Assolant and Lefevre, started from Lebourget field, Paris, yesterday morning. Once at the African city they will refuel their craft—one especially prepared for a trans-Atlantic flight— and take off for Rio De Janerio. They expressed the greatest confidence they would be able to reach the South Amrican metropolis.

At soon as they have rested at Rio De Janerio their plane will be refueled and the Frenchmen, who are credited with being the most skillful of the younger French pilots, plan to continue on to New York.

WAGES FIGHT ON SMITH IN SOUTH

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 5—Dr. John Roach Straton of New York came into the heart of the old south last night to renew his attack on Governor Alfred E. Smith at a rally of "Hoover democrats."

More than 6,000 Georgians jammed the city auditorium, to hear the fundamentalist pastor denounce the record of the democratic presidential candidate. There was only occasional heckling and that was feeble.

"Smith has been for the things that destroy and tear down our lives; and against the things that help and uplift our lives," Stratton said.

Referring to Governor Smith's request that he be allowed to reply to the clergyman's charges from the same pulpit where they were made, Stratton said: "He must repent of his political sins before he can speak in Calvary Baptist Church."

REPUBLICANS TO BROADCAST FOR 45 NIGHTS

Hoover and Counsellors Agree On $135,000 Radio Program This Month.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A $135,000 radio broadcasting campaign to be staged every night beginning in late September has been decided upon by Herbert Hoover and his campaign counselors.

For 45 nights before November 6, the Republican speakers bureau will broadcast one-half hour each night on a National network.

In order to reach every voter with a radio set, the program will alternate on the National broadcasting network and the Columbia broadcasting network.

Hoover's advisers have estimated the cost of setting up each National network will be about $3,000 nightly. In addition expenses of the speakers must be paid together with "additional expenses arising from the tremendous task of staging a show for 45 nights without a repeat of the program.

Never before has the radio been used so extensively. But the Hoover strategists believe the money could not be spent more profitably. Only a few thousand persons can hear directly the few speeches of the stump campaigners. The nominee himself intends to make only four big speeches. They are all to be broadcast nationally but they cannot cover either the subjects or the people which will be reached by a concerted drive.

Furthermore, the Hoover leaders believe this extensive plan is necessary since they have received reports that the Democrats intend to spend as much as half a million dollars in circulating their educational material over the radio.

Hoover will make his four speeches in Newark, N. J., Tennessee or North Carolina; New York City; and New England, probably at Boston. The only dates set definitely are Newark, Sept. 17 and New York City, Oct. 17. The Newark speech, the first of the four, will deal with labor problems.

A point near the Tennessee-North Carolina state line, probably Knoxville or Asheville, will probably be selected for his promised speech in the so-called "border states." His trip will take him further south than Republican presidential candidates have gone in recent years.

SMITH MOVES WITH CAUTION ON DRY ISSUE

Gives Careful Thought to Reaction As He Tries To Satisfy Both Sides.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 5—Gov. Alfred E. Smith is giving careful thought to the treatment of the prohibition issue as he blocks out his campaign itinerary, to be announced within two days, realizing that this issue, which he projected so openly, is going to play a vital part in both "dry" and "wet" sections.

He is faced with the problem of satisfying the drys as well as the wets, for he must carry some so-called dry states even if he should swing the dominant states in the wet east behind him. Already the champion of the modificationists, he is now considering the best course to follow with the prohibitionists.

The democratic candidate is being accused by Republicans of raising "'false hopes" among the wets by his program of modification.

He is expected to meet this accusation by going into some detail into the Canadian system of control ,which he advocates, explaining how it works ,emphasizing its benefits as he sees them as compared with American prohibition which he says does not prohibit, and citing figures in proof.

BETTIS FIELD, McKEESPORT Pa., Sept. 5.—(UP.)—Spanning the treacherous Allegheny mountains between Harrisburg, Pa. and MsKeesport, in an hour and twenty minutes today, Earl Rowland, of Wichita, Kans., in his Cessna monoplane, led the 37 starters in the national air derby from New York to Los Angeles to their second half hour stop here.

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., ept .5.—Two planes of the 37 which started from Roosevelt Field, L. I., in the national air derby today were missing at the first control station here at 10:30 a. m.

Officials at the field previously announced that all planes were accounted for but a check showed two missing. Field officials thus far have been unable to ascertain the names of the pilots of the missing ships.

A third plane was wrecked in a forcel landing at Lebanon, Pa., but the pilot was uninjured.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Down the same runway that has launched many famous flights, 37 planes roared today, starting the first leg of one of the greatest trans-continental races in the history of aviation.

The planes, representing nearly every type of small commercial aircraft ,all were powered with motors of 510 cubic-inch piston displacement or less. They comprise the Class A group of the national air races from New York to Los Angeles.

At 6:45 a. m. Albert R. Jacobs, Philadelphia, in a Waco 10, powered with a special Fisher and Jacobs motor, sped down the runway to the cheers of several thousand spectators, and the race was on.

One minute later Dan R. Robertson, of St. Louis, flying a Curtiss Robin monoplane with an Ox-5 motor, sped in pursuit and the other planes followed at one minute intervals.

LAST AWAY AT 7:22

The last plane roared away at 7:22, 39 minutes after Jacob's plane had faded into the west.

There was no graceful circling of the field by the pilots before they nosed into the west. The planes headed westward on the runway at the start.

The start was orderly, none of the pilots attempting to "eat the flag." The crowd followed the official starter from one plane to another and cheered each as it lifted its tail and started after those who had gone before.

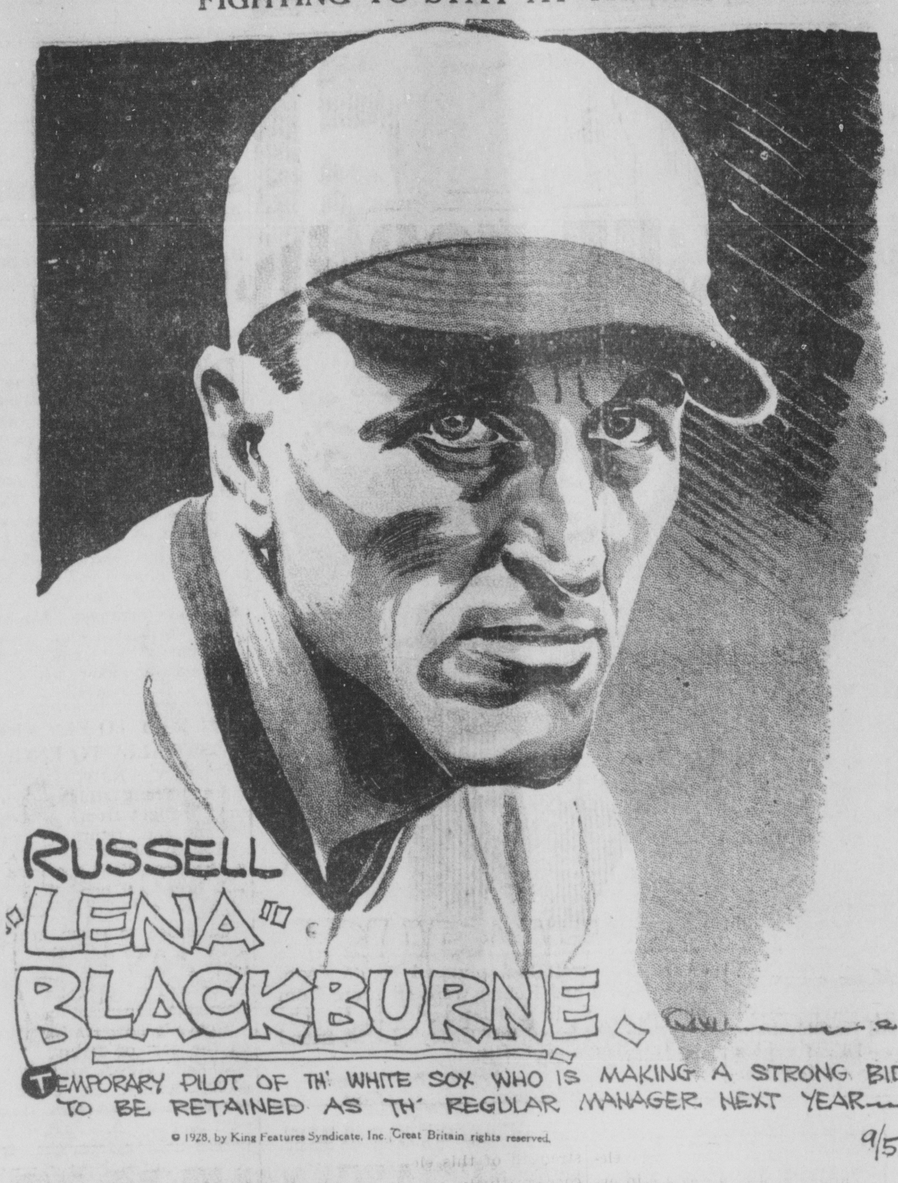
FIGHTING TO STAY AT THE HELM



SPORTSMATTER

BY FRANK GETTY

A feature of the National League race as the season goes into the final stretch is the onrushing drive of the Pittsburgh Pirates to repeat as champions for 1928.

A big factor in this drive is the capable mound work of Remy Kremer, ace of the Pirate staff. His series of consecutive victories have aided the National League champions to maintain a winning average of around .700 since July 4.

All this for a player whom scouts termed "too old" for major league service.

In 1915 the name of Remy Kremer, was listed among the twenty pitching recruits at the Giants' training camp at Marlin, Texas. Kremer was from California and was homesick for his native state. After suffering a sunstroke and broken in health he was shipped back to the Pacific Coast.

Then in 1925 his work against the Washington Senators in the world series established him as one of the outstanding pitchers in the national pastime. Only a game man would have been able to make the brilliant up-hill fight which characterized Kremer's career in baseball. He may be too old, but at 31 he is among the youngest in baseball in point of effectiveness and pitching skill. Last season he was ranked third among National League pitchers.

Eight Years In Oakland

Barney Dreyfuss threw Kremer into the breach to save a world's championship in 1925. Back in 1915, his second year in professional baseball, the Giants signed Kremer from Sacramento, only to let him go back without pitching a big league game. In 1916 he signed with Oakland, and for eight years he toiled in that city without a single major league scout giving him any consideration.

Kremer tells the story of his ascent to the big leagues. "Eight years I pitched in Oakland. I thought I was doomed to the minors forever. I won and won. Scouts came and went away. Then finally, when I had given up hope of another major trial, there came along old Joe Devine, a fellow I had known all my life, and he insisted upon Pittsburgh giving me a trial. After all the years I had [illegible] and I grabbed it and held on tight."

Dusted Senators

The sixth game of the world series in 1925 saw Kremer rise to pitching heights worthy of the greatest mound stars in baseball's history. The Senators had won three games and the Pirates two. Kremer had lost the third game of the series in a wintry wind in Washington. He faced Bucky Harris' fighting team in that decisive game with a sore arm. For the first two innings he was hit hard, but after that his arm warmed up and he held the American Leaguers helpless for the rest of the game. It was a masterly performance the veteran minor leaguer turned in that day to give the Pirates their chance to get into and win the seventh game and the world's championship.

Last season when the Pirates lined up against the Yankees in the first game of the world series in Pittsburgh, Kremer drew the mound assignment. The Pirates showed more scoring skill in this game than in any other. Kremer allowed five hits in five innings, errors paving the way for a 5 to 4 win for the Yankees.

Kremer has an impressive pitching record during his service in the National League. He won eighteen and lost ten in 1924, won fourteen and lost eight in 1925, won twenty and lost six in 1926 and won nineteen and lost eight in 1927. This season promises to be one of the best in his career.

TEAMS AT BANQUET

Frank Lynch's Coca-Cola Recreation Ball Team entertained the Hi Ball team to a banquet at Hanley's Tuesday evening. They were the losers of the game last Friday evening and the winners not only won the game but had the pleasure of being entertained.

The Coca-Cola boys still think they are the better team and the Hi boys challenged them to a series of three games to give them an opportunity to prove this claim. The Coca-Cola boys accepted and the games will be played soon.

NICKEL SMOKE THAT TAKES NO BACK SEAT

To Any Cigar In The Land

Don't let anybody kid you about smoking nickel cigars. You're as good as the next man — and certainly a better judge of cigar value if you smoke Havana Ribbon and he doesn't. For this thirty-year-old favorite is not only the greatest 5c cigar ever made, but well ahead of many cigars selling for more.

And why shouldn't it be? It's Ripe Tobacco! Don't get us wrong; Havana Ribbon contains not just some ripe tobacco. It's all ripe. No bitter under-ripe top leaves. No flat-tasting over-ripe bottom leaves. But fragrant, mellow-mild, full-flavored, just-right middle leaves —the choicest of the plant. And long-filler leaves at that! No "scraps" or short ends. Imagine all that—for five cents! Sail into some Havana Ribbons right now. Sold everywhere. Also in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

FIRF LOSS MOUNTS IN CIRCLEVILLE YEARLY

Every year the fire loss in the City of Circleville increases, records at the Fire Department show. The fire loss per capita during the period from 1918 to 1922 was $1.43, compared with a loss of $4.15 per capita from 1922 to 1927. More calls are recorded each year, according to Talmer Wise, fire chief.

During 1927, 45 runs were made by the department. Records this year show 33 runs have been made by the department.

The year of 1926 probably had the highest fire loss of any recent year as a loss of $137,173 was on the books. Of this amount $67,-148 was covered by insurance.

During the year of 1927 the loss by fire was placed at $23,915 of which $17,652 was covered by insurance.

The city has 25 alarm boxes and 160 fire hydrants with two, 1-2 inch outlets.

The water pressure runs from 40 to 60 pounds with a maximum of 65 pounds when the standpipe is full. This pressure can be raised to 130 pounds by pumping. It is considered that the water system is capable of supplying four to six hose lines in addition to domestic consumption under conditions applying at the time of the fire.

This year 260 business places were inspected by firemen and 50 were found to be in bad condition, ten very bad. These places were immediately cleaned up by the owners, Chief Wise, said.

FORD CATCHES FIRE

Crowds gathered in front of The Herald office Tuesday night when the Ford sedan of James Claytor, Route 1, Circleville, caught fire from a leaking carburetor.

Claytor extinguished the blaze with his cap and sweater before the fire department arrived.

Claytor and Charles Lane were driving west on Main-st. when the car ignited.

Fire officials placed a loss of $5 on the car. The department made a record time, rounding the corner of Court and Franklin-sts before the bell had rung the box number the second time.

U. S. AIR MAIL WILL SET RECORD

Planes Will Fly Eight Million Miles In 1928 and Ten In 1929.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 — United States air-mail planes will fly 8,000,000 miles during the present year and in 1929 will add 2,-000,000 miles to their flights, making this country the first to attain ten million miles or more of commercial air transport flights in one year.

Germany, America's closest competitor flew 6,000,000 miles in 1927, but that record will be far surpassed on the United States airways this year, figures compiled by the American Air Transport association show.

On or before next Jan. 1, several important air mail routes will be added to those now in operation. The new routes will be from Chicago and Atlanta, with spurs from Evansville to Louisville and Kansas City; from Atlanta to Miami, Fla., and from Omaha to St. Louis. Foreign service will be inaugurated to Mexico and Canada.

By the first of the year mail planes will be flying over 38 states and stopping at 108 cities each day.

HOPES TO FLY OVER PACIFIC TO SHANGHAI

LANSING, MICH., Sept. 5 — Dr. Tien Lai Huang, Chinese good will flier and student of international problems, announced he would take off from San Francisco, probably within two weeks on an attempted two stop flight across the Pacific ocean to Shanghai.

Dr. Tien, who for the past four months has been on a good will tour of the United States, said his co-pilot would be Jimmy Angel of Fresno, Calif., and his navigator Jack Leach of Butte, Mont. Leach formerly was an instructor of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

A passenger will be selected, Dr. Tien said, from a list of approximately 100 applicants.

The flight will be made in a tri-motored, four seater Junkers monoplane which Dr. Tien purchased in Germany. Stops will be made at Honolulu and the Midway Islands.

Two Big Herds of Elephants with the Gentry Bros. Circus Regarded as Best Trained on American Continent

A circus would not be a circus without huge, lumbering elephants, and this holds true in every sense of the phrase. To the circus fan, peanuts and pachyderms are synonymous and to countless tnousands a visit to the circus would not be complete without a trip through the menagerie where happy moments are spent feeding the towering, friendly and gentle giants of the jungles. With the Gentry Bros. Circus, which comes to Circleville Ball Park on Monday, Sept. 10, are two big herds of elephants and their many unusual offerings have won wide acclaim as the best trained herds of elephants in America.

"Moms," 110-years old, is the leader of one of the herds, and "Modoc" is the leader of the other herd.

"Moms"—whose photograph is shown above, is a remarkable elephant in many respects. Although a few months past her 110th birthday she is as active and industrious in her performance as in any time during the long career this elephant has had. The strength of this elephant has been conservatively estimated as equal to 30 horses. Many times during the year when the big wagons become mired in soft, muddy showgrounds, and more than 30 horses have vainly tried to move the huge vehicle, "Moms" has been pressed into service and with seemingly small effort has pushed the wagon out of the mire. While elephants are valuable as performers they are ofttimes even more valuable as the means of moving the bulky circus wagons in places where horses can be of no aid.

The Gentry Bros. Circus elephants are trained by Captain Leo Blondin, who has for his assistants, Mlle. Rodosky, noted Russian trainer; Captain Wm. Dalzell, and Miss Bobby Crawford.

This year the Gentry Bros. Circus is greater than ever before. In the big show performance there are more than 200 acts, in which 60 riders, 30 clowns, 40 aerialists and 60 acrobats take part. A picturesque street parade will be staged at 11 a. m.

SHAW TIRED OF BEING A SIGHT, PLANS TO MOVE

LONDON, Sept. 5.—George Bernard Shaw is tired of being one of the sights of Lake Maggiore and will retire to an island to evade tourists, a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Stressa, Italy, said today.

The dispatch said Shaw was negotiating to lease Isola San Diovanni, one of the famous Sour Borromean islands of Tosa Bay in Lake Maggiore. It has a solitary villa which Shaw would use as a summer residence.

The manager of the largest hotel in Stressa bemoaned the decision of the bearded playwright, as while Shaw was stopping at the hotel last year, special motor trips were arranged for tourists to have a look at him, much to the profit of the landlord and the annoyance of Shaw.

WILL TRY TO FLY FROM AUSTRALIA TO ENGLAND

SYDNEY, NSW., Sept. 5.—Captain Frank Hurley will attempt a flight from Australia to England and return, it was announced.

Hurley said $50,000 had been subscribed by citizens for his expenses.

He will use a Ryan monoplane similar to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis. It will be named Spirit of Australia.

Hurley's route will be similar to that taken by the trans-Pacific plane Southern Cross. He expects the flight to take about a month.

KONJOLA BANISHED EVERY SYMPTOM OF STOMACH TROUBLE

Bloating Spells and Heart Palpitation Ended By This Advanced Medicine.

MR. W. L. WHITE.

"I would not feel right if I did not indorse Konjola after the wonderful way this medicine completely ended every trace of my health troubles," said Mr. W. L. White, Logan, Ohio, (60 miles from Columbus.)

"The quantities of gas that formed after every meal pressed against my heart and pained me so much that I often thought I had heart trouble. All during the day, I was subject to dizzy spells and headaches that almost blinded me. This condition was aggravated a great deal by constipation that even the strongest laxatives did not relieve.

"Soon after starting on the treatment of Konjola, I noticed a vast change over my entire system. The headaches and dizzy spells vanished and they have never returned so I feel sure the relief is permanent. My stomach now digests whatever I eat so that the gas bloating is a thing of the past and as a result, my heart never acts unnaturally. The constipation has also been relieved so that I never have to take a laxative."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, Ohio at Mykrantz Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

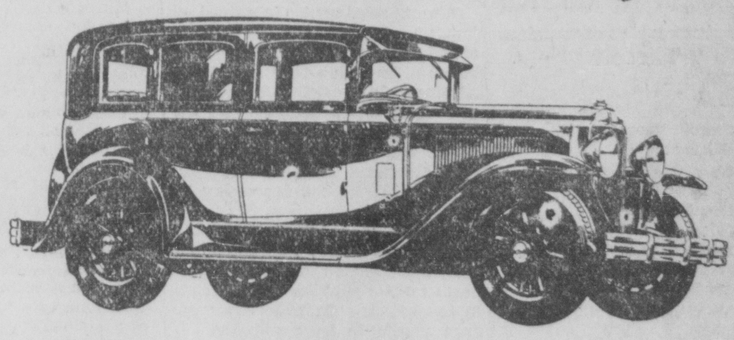
The new Buick is the new Style



More than handsome···more than luxurious···a wonderful new type of motor car beauty··a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

$1,500,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. The velvet mohair upholstery in the closed models—the hardware and fitments—the many appointments of luxury and convenience—are all of the richest quality; and the bracing of the bodies, which imparts strength and durability and freedom from squeaks and rattles, is the most efficient and effective known to motor car practice.

In dashing beauty—as in fleet, powerful performance—the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher.

It is more than handsome, more than luxurious—it marks a thrilling turning point in body design. And the motoring public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!

PRAYER — Lord, we seek Thy counsel and Thy wisdom.

THOUGHTLESS THEFT

Helping oneself to a couple of apples, an ear of corn or a few potatoes from orchard or field probably seems to most motorists as a matter so small as to be unworthy of comment. Yet the farmers of New York state alone, during the 1927 touring season, lost more than a million dollars' worth of produce in this manner of petty and usually thoughtless pilfering. In fact, so serious has grown this thoughtless stealing by motorists driving through the rural sections, that the New York State Automobile Association has joined the State Farm Bureau Federation and the state police in an effort to reduce what is cumulatively a serious loss to the farmers of the state .

Probably the basic trouble in this pilfering mania that seems to have seized otherwise entirely honest citizens is the extreme pettiness of the individual levy on the farmer's stock. The motorist picks a few apples to eat as he rolls along and subsequently thinks that the farmer never will even miss them. He doesn't miss the individual taking, but with literally millions of cars on the roads every Sunday and every Saturday his orchard can easily be stripped or his field lose bushels of potential produce by the cumulative pilfering of many.

Automobile clubs everywhere will do well to get behind the campaign to stop this thoughtless but serious appropriation of products that mean only a passing moment's enjoyment to the motorist but which mean a living gained or lost to the farmer.

A FELLOW

HERE'S a
Fellow
You should know,
Cheerful sort
Of guy,
Doesn't care for
Pomp and show,
Doesn't moan or
Sigh;
Always smiles and Says that he Gets along just Fine,
Seems he's always
Filled with glee—
Fish are on his Line—
Here's another young
Chap, who Hasn't much to say,
Seems he's always
Sad and blue,
Grouchy every day;
Troubles always
Seem to thrive
Where his Footsteps go,
If he really is Alive
You would never Know—

And what we mean to say
Is,
These two fellows I
Have met,
In my walk through Life,
One I view with
Sad regret
For he stirs up
Strife;
But the other chap
I hail
He's a right good
Fellow,
Life to him holds
Not a wail,
Every day is Mellow.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 5— Optimistic harvest reports from Canada sent wheat prices slightly lower on the board of trade today. Corn continued to decline. Oats were little changed.

Wheat opened 1-8 to 3-8 cent lower, corn was down 1-8 to 3-4 cent and oats were unchanged to 1-8 cent off. Provisions were slightly higher.

Wheat sentiment is mixed at present, but traders seem inclined to accept small profits or losses rather than take a prolonged stand. Increased hedging pressure from the northwest and the enormous prospective world supply of wheat are bearish factors. Splendid harvest weather in Canada also has been a depressing influence.

Liquidation in September corn yesterday caused weakness that extended to all deliveries. Reports on the supplies of old corn in the country disagree. Bumper crop prospects have put the deferred months under pressure, but traders have been predicting that large foreign purchases will worry December shorts.

Receipts of oats have been only moderate but lack of demand has weakened the cash situation.

EXPECTING COMPANY

Love's Ecstasy

by May Christie

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

ALEDA RAY, pretty country girl working in New York as a stenographer, and Gary Chester, young engineer, are in love. Aleda is living with Marise de Rense and the latter's young, sophisticated sister, Goldie. Goldie, jealous, maliciously poisons Gary's mind with falsehoods about Aleda. Gary, disillusioned, avoids Aleda. Goldie, visiting Aleda's office, is mistaken by Aleda's employer, W. B. Lingard, for Marise. Lingard accompanies Goldie home and there sees Marise—the sweetheart of his youth. Eavesdropping, Goldie learns that Marise is not her sister—but her mother!

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER LXVI.

GOLDIE DE RENZE listened behind the curtains that divided the lobby from the living room—an insane fury mingling with a burning curiosity.

Lingard and Marise — sitting there together so chummily on the sofa—speaking about her—Goldie.

"Some day you'll have to tell her that she isn't your sister, but your daughter!" Lingard in tense tones had just voiced those words, pregnant with fate, to Marise!

Goldie was staggered—for the first time in her life really appalled by what she'd heard!

Marise's daughter? Not a young sister, but—her child?

Incredible!

With thudding heart she pressed closer to the curtains, listening intently.

The rich man was speaking, in a low, strained voice.

"Why did you adopt the name de Renze'?"

Marise put both hands to her face. It was as though she wished, most urgently, to bolt out the past and its mishaps . . .

"I wanted . . . to forget . . .!" The phrase was melodramatic. It reminded Goldie of a period in her life when, as a tiny child—the little orphaned sister, as she'd understood!—she accompanied Marise on tour with a stock company.

She ground her small white teeth with anger when she heard what she termed that "stage tremulo" in Marise's voice. . . .

Liar! And hypocrite!

Marise—she had just admitted it—was HER MOTHER—not her sister! She Goldie de Renze (so-called . . . even the name was a fake!)—was Marise's child.

Good God! It was vile of Marise to have so deceived her!

But there was a law of compensation! Marise would PAY!

The wealthy Lingard sitting so close to Marise on the sofa! Marise was "passe" . . . old . . . but he was gazing into Marise's face!

They had entirely forgotten her—Goldie—the unlucky issue of this long-ago love affair.

For in Goldie's mind—oversharpened by the devious ways and mental processes of Broadway!—stood out one fact. It had been gleaned from Lingard's shocked excitement at the sight of her . . . hadn't he—struck by the resemblance to the alleged "sister," hailed her as: "Marise! Marise!"?

And hadn't Marise turned white with emotion at the mere sight of Lingard on her own front steps?

She—Goldie—(with the cognomen of "de Renze")—was really Goldie Lingard!

It was a staggering thought.

But she believed it!

And she would make them pay, this pair!

He'd said he wasn't married! Marise was an old maid!

How dare they bring her into the world and trick her? Without a father—background — the prestige of Lingard's money— what a cruel handicap in life!

She couldn't hear their voices now—so faint they were . . . ! Her anger and her venom were so great that she felt weak and giddy, as though the world were slipping away from her!

After what seemed a long, long time, she pulled herself together, and that scheming brain of hers set to work again. Hadn't Clive Mortimer a plan on hand—he'd outlined it quite sketchily to Goldie, but she got the drift of it—to wring money out of silly little Smithson, because the latter had rented a roof-apartment in a fake name — where he could give cheery parties once in a while, without the knowledge of his wife?

Well, she—Goldie (of the assumed name "de Renze"!) had a much bigger trump-card in her hand!

Marise was a weak fool—more "sinned against than sinning"—for a long time this pert "gamine" of a girl had mentally catalogued Marise!

But Lingard was prominent in the financial world — extremely rich—with prestige—for him there would be much at stake! Clive would advise her to as to "compensation money" . . . the price of her silence . . . it was all quite proper and in order, if she were really this man's child!

* * *

"So he's gone? I heard everything you and he said to each other!" In the shabby living-room of the house on West Fortieth street, Goldie—who now believed that highly important blood ran in her veins—faced Marise.

Marise was shaking. To a gentler, more compassionate heart there was a pitiful appeal in that white face.

But not to Goldie. Goldie was furious . . . . beside herself with rage.

"You heard . . . ?" The words were dragged reluctantly from her "sister's" pale lips.

"That you are my mother?" In the green eyes were a tigerish luminosity, ready for attack.

Marise choked, swallowed, gave a helpless little gesture with her hands.

"I love you, Goldie! Can't you understand—always — ever since you were born—you've been my whole life!"

From her even teeth, and displaying every cruel one of them, Goldie's lips curled back, just like a wild cat.

"Cut out the melodrama! Despite the sob stuff, I always had the feeling I was on your conscience — that you were double-crossing me! But before you leave this room—" —Goldie stood truculently in front of the older woman, barring the exit — "you're going to tell me the whole truth about my parentage!"

"HOT NEWS"

Women have entered into the commercial and industrial life of the world to such an extent during the past decade that there is hardly a field of endeavor left that they have not explored .

Danger, as has been proven on innumerable occasions ,is not a deterrent to the feminine sex. During the world war and since, they have taken men's places in the most hazardous of occupations.

It was recently revealed, during the making of Bebe Daniel's latest starring picture, "Hot News," which is now showing at the Metropolitan Theatre, that even the most adventuresome of professions, that of the newsreel photographer, has been invaded by woman.

There are now a number of newsreel camera women who, like their masculine co-workers, risk life and limb almost every day in order to photograph thrilling news events for theatre audiences throughout the world.

"GOOD MORNING JUDGE"

Tonight will be your last chance to see a bang-up picture, "Good Morning Judge," which features Reginald Denny. Denny's latest picture portrays him as a wealthy young man who gets into the police drag net during a riot following a prize fight. Mary Nolan and Dorothy Gulliver also have leading parts.

"China to the Ladies" will be an added feature tonight.

The Paris divorce mills, we hear, have greatly curtailed their production. Cases are already on record of Americans returning with the very same wives they took over.—The New Yorker.

Golf clubs of the United States have been requested to close on national election days. Another, and possibly better idea would be to make the nineteenth hole a voting booth.—Seattle Times.

Trace Sore Throat Epidemic to Milk

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND

THEY have had a bad time in New England. There has been an epidemic of sore throat. Hundreds had it and many died.

It is only human to become neglectful. Even though we learn how certain diseases are carried and what to do to prevent this evil, we get careless. In the absence of trouble for a long time, we lapse into forgetfulness of possible danger.

That is the case with smallpox, and other preventable diseases. It is true of fire hazards and various ailments due to industrial hazards.

One of the greatest boons to humanity was the discovery that pasteurizing milk is a very sure means of making it safe. Milk can be made safe without pasteurization provided rigid inspections are possible. But without care in the handling, this essential food, instead, may be converted into a deadly poison.

Among the diseases which have been traced to contaminated milk we find epidemic sore throat. In the account I read of the epidemic in Massachusetts, it said that samples of milk sent to Boston for examination were found to contain the germs of scarlet fever and septic sore throat.

Human beings who may be perfectly well themselves are sometimes the carriers of disease germs. In the pockets of their tonsils or in some other cavity of the body, there may be harbored these deadly agents. They breed and multiply here and are continually expelled into the air. They may reach milk or other articles of food and thus carry disease to distant homes.

The public has heard about typhoid fever carriers. Everybody knows how dangerous they are unless they cooperate with the health authorities.

While I was Health Commissioner of New York City one of our alert inspectors found a typhoid carrier in the family of an employe living on the "water shed" of the city. While the prospect was remote, there was the danger that the water supply might have become contaminated.

It is a great tribute to their skill that research scientists have revealed this fact and made it pos for health officials to head off sible epidemics. That is what pened in Massachusetts. quickly the authorities traced septic sore throat epidemic to taminated milk. Before now doubt, they have found the pa lar human being who was the ing point of the epidemic.

Some time we will know about the different types of g At present it is difficult to sep one type from another remar similar in growth and appea under the miscroscope. We confident, however, that the tists will not stop their st til this differentiation has accomplished.

250 PICKAWAY-CO. BOYS AND GIRLS JOIN 4-H CLUBS

Pickaway-co. has 250 boys and girls enrolled in the 4-H clubs this year under the guidance of county and state representatives of the agricultural college extension course of Ohio State university.

The enrollment, however, is only the first half of the story of 4-H clubs. The second and more important half is the completion by each member of the job he or she contracted to do when enrolling. That job varies from raising pigs and calves and flowers to cooking and sewing for the farm family.

Of the 321,000 boys and girls between 10 and 17 years old in rural Ohio, 30,818 are enrolled in 4-H clubs this year, This represents an increase of 1702 over last year.

EXCITEMENT REIGNS AT EVENING PARTY

One of the out-standing social events that have honored Miss Helen Dunton, bride-elect, was the bridge party and shower given in her honor Tuesday night at 8 o'clock by Miss Minida Lyle, of W. Mound-st. The 16 guests selected tallies and formed four tables of bridge which progressed five times during the evening. The large room where the tables had been placed, was decorated with festoons of trailing green vines on which were bright colored berries. Also bouquets of gladioli and other long stemmed fall flowers were used.

The prizes at bridge were won by Miss Ann Bennett, Miss Winifred Given and Miss Ruth Cryder. After these had been awarded the hostess served first a delectable salad course. This was followed by a dessert course which was a "bubble" dessert served in tall sherbets, and consisted of frozen cream which rested on a foundation of macaroons, and was surrounded by sliced peaches, standing around the cream. On top of these was a row of "bubbles" of different colors. The cream, which was frozen in a cone shape, was topped by a brilliant red heart.

When the guests at once examined these hearts they were found to contain a tiny slip of paper on which was written, "Winnie and Ralph Sept. 3rd." This was the announcement of the marriage of Miss Winifred Given to Mr. Ralph Wallace.

After this excitement, Miss Helen Dunton, who had received a small envelope with a red heart stamp, instead of one of the other small hearts, read the message which bade her go to the buffet in the dining room, and there was another message, which directed her on a "Treasure Hunt" for gifts that the guests had brought for her. On each present were the directions which led her to the next gift. Jimmy Lyle, brother of the hostess carried a large basket, and accompanied the guest of honor on the hunt for the treasure..

The announcement of the marriage of one of the guests had come as a complete surprise to all present, and the novel distribution of the engagement gifts completed a most successful evening.

The guest list included Miss Helen Dunton, Miss Florence Dunton, Mrs. Ralph Wallace, Miss Mary Ellen Phillips, Miss Helen Snyder, Miss Eleanor Snyder, Miss Marian Hitler, Miss Helen Hitler, Miss Agnes Newmyer, Miss Ruth Cryder, Miss Ann Bennett, Miss Katharine May, Miss Evelyn Fohl, Miss Margie Hunsicker, Miss Catherine Groom, Mrs. H. Before WINTER BEGINS

This is the time of the year when two major problems of cleaning confront you: the fall housecleaning and the difficult task of combating the winter soot and mud.

For both of these problems you will find an immediate solution in The Hoover.

Not only will it eliminate from your housecleaning all the burdensome beating and sweeping of floor coverings outdoors, give you rugs and carpets that are cleaner than the most laborious and persistent hand cleaning can make them, but it will keep your floor coverings in this state of super cleanliness throughout the year.

Hoover cleaning, due to "Positive Agitation" is not the usual surface brightening which you get from other cleaning methods. It is all the way through cleaning. It lifts out the embedded dirt just as easily as it sucks up the surface dust and brushes up the surface lint – and gets more dirt per minute than any other cleaner.

No other cleaning method can give you the wholesome cleanliness which The Hoover offers. Can you afford to be without one? Model 700 Hoover, $75.00. Model 543 Hoover only $59.50. Dusting tools and floor polisher at a slight extra charge. Liberal allowance for your old cleaner. Telephone us for a free demonstration.
